One Was Taken and the Other Left. John Butchinson was charged in the Police in money. When Mortimer was arrested Court yesterday with being a vagrant. It was said he was charged with the said he was found drank on Q Street on Monday night and that he was repeatedly in that condition. He was fined $10 and in default of payment will spend thirty days in the workhouse. Bud Clements admitted being drunk on Seventh Street southeast Monday night, but he denied being a vagrant. Judge Kinshall took his personal bond on the promise that he would keep soher.

In money. When Mortimer was arrested by the police he was charged with the their of the money as well as the distribution. The grand jury, however, when it returned as indicatment against him charged him with the larceny of the diamonds, but did not include the $400 which was stolen at the same time.

It is claimed that under the circumstances the money taken from the prisoner at the time of his arrest should be returned to him.

 APPEAL IN TELEPHONE CASES. The Company Goes to the United > States Supreme Court. The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, through its counsel, yesterday filed an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States from the decision of the Court of Appeals for the District in what are known as the telephone cases. In these cases it will be remembered that a number of the subscribers for the telephone service of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company sought to enjoin it from charging a higher rate for the use of its instruments than was allowed by the act of Congress of June 30,

Upon a hearing of the questions involved before one of the justices of the Supreme Court of the District it was held that the act of Congress fixing the rate for telephone service in the District was nconstitutional. From this decision the subscribers took an appeal and the Court of Appeals about two weeks ago announce ed its decision declaring constitutional the act of Congress of June 20, 1898, regu lating the cost of telephone service in the

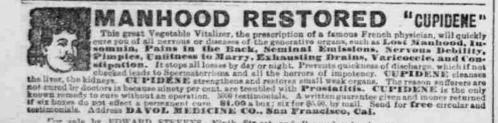

It is from this judgment of the Court of Appeals for the District that the telephone company now takes an appeal The bond was fixed at $2,000. The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company is represented by Worthington, Heald & Frailey and Jene M. Wilson.

AFFAIRS OF THE DISTRICT

The Question of Extending Water Mains Out Bladensburg Road.

Hearing Before the Commissioners Yesterday on the Subject-Success of the New System of Tax Collections - May Building Operations.

A hearing was granted by the Commissioners vesterday to parties interested in the application of the Standard Butterine Company for an extension of the Potomac water to the point on the Bladensburg Road where it will become available for the purposes of the factory in Langdon, D. C. To make the necessary extension of the service will require the laying of about 5,000 feet of water main from the present terminus of the system, near Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Wilton J. Lambert, attorney for the company, introduced to the Commisssion ers those who spoke. Mr. Lambert related the fact that application for water service had been made by Walter Wilkins, president of the company, and said that the factory would not use more than 7,000 gallons of water a day, to be measured by the meter system. Mr. Lambert told of the fermation of the butterine company and said the plant recently finished at Langdon represents an outlay of $200,000. He said that the promoters hoped the District authorities would co-operate with them in the extension of the main, but finding that this was impossible the company undertook to stand the entire expense. He said the extension of the main would be of vast benefit and importance to a growing community. An artesian well as a water supply would be impracticable, be declared, because of the heavy mineral deposits in such waters in this

Mr. Lambert said that the use of water by the factory would in no way curtail the supply of other consumers along the same main. He said the company had not been negligent in not first obtaining permission to make water connections and he ven tured that not a single corporation or private party, in the erection of a building, gives any thought to the water connections until it is time for them to be made. It was not to be supposed that any citizens would be defied the use of water when they are willing to meet all ex-penses in connection with the installation when they are willing to meet all expenses in commection with the installation of the service.

Mr. Lambert said that the Butterine Company would give employment to 300 people. He said it was a local enterprise. He also spoke of the recent movement to biring manufacturing industries into the District of Columbia, and declared that the present enterprise should not receive a check, just as all is in readiness for its inauguration.

Henry E. Davis also spoke. He said he was not a stockholder in the company nor was he in its employ in any way. He was interested in a large tract of land on the Bladensburg Road in the vicinity of the factory and in behalf of that property asked that the request of the company be granted. Mr. Davis said he reflected the sentiment of all property holders in the neighborhood. Mr. Davis called attention to the fact that the Commissioners were able at any time to currently the last of warm of water if it improved the called attention to the fact that the Com-missioners were able at any time to cur-tail the use of water, if it appeared that the general supply was in anywise endan-gered. He said the company would not be allowed to consume water enough to interfere in the least with the rights of others. others.

Mr. Lawson, Vice President of the Northeastern Suburban Citizens' Association, spoke in behalf of the granting of the permit and presented a resolution, on the Lubject adopted at a meeting of the association held last evening.

the association held last evening.

Several other gentlemen spoke, and Mr.
Lambert concluded the hearing with the statement that the company had creeted a sewage disposal-plant and that no trouble need be feared on that score.

Commissioner Macfarland, President of the Board, announced that careful attention would be given to all that was said in the consideration of the matter.

The new plan for the collection of taxes has been in operation one month and has stood the test of the rush to pay up on the last days of the month before interest begins. The system has now been thoroughly tried and, in the opinion of the Assessor, H. H. Darneille, and the Collector of Taxes, E. G. Davis, works well. It is claimed for it that it will shortly rid the department of the old delinquent taxes and bring the accounts to a more sim-

According to the view of the Collector much of the delinquency in the payment of taxes is due to the semi-annual payment of taxes. He says the accounts show that the delinquent taxes are for the most part the second half tax of the given year. As he put it, the owners of property pay the first installment and forget to pay the second six months later. Under the new system all the taxes due on property are included in the bills, and the owner, if he chooses, can pay up and lear his account as well as the title to

George S. Wilson, Secretary to the Sound of Charities, has forwarded to the ommissioners a request that the intendant of the Washington Asylum be instructed to keep the accounts of the institution after July 1, 1901, in such a manner as to show as nearly as possible the cost of maintenance of each of the three departments, the almshouse, workhouse and hospital.

In the letter to the Commissioners, Mr. Wilson says that in many respects the three departments of this Institution are three departments of this institutions, each performing a distinct service, and he says that for many reasons it is desirable that the exact cost of each department should be shown. It is understood that the Commissioners will issue the necessary orders to carry out the wishes of the Board of Chartists.

Poison Oak Poison Ivy

BOTANICAL REPTILES

Their Sting Sets the Skin on Fire and Fills the Veins with a Violent, Lingering Poison

These plants seem to partake of the nature and character of the serpent; in winter time being comparatively harmless, but when warmed into life by spring and summer heat they become extremely venomous and spiteful, emitting a milky juice that burns and blisters like a fiery acid, producing quick inflammation and painful swelling. Some persons are so susceptible to these vegetable poisons that coming in their vicinity will produce almost as much discomfort and pain as handling them; their thin and sensitive skins seem to absorb from the surrounding atmosphere the acrid juices emanating from these plants. There is seldom a picnic or family gathering in the woods but that some member of the party comes in contact with Poison Ivy, Oak or some other hurtful plant or weed, and through the open pores the poison is carried to the overheated blood. Poison Ivy is found clinging to tree trunks, fences or rocks, sometimes reach-

I remained in a precarious condition, confined to the house, for six months, when I saw S. S. S. advertised and began its use, soon realizing that it was doing me good. I continued the medicine and was cured entirely. I think it the best blood medicine made."

It is truly remarkable with what regularity and certainty the disease returns, and always on schedule time, appearing the same month, day and hour, almost, that it did the year before. Don't be deceived should all the signs of the poison vanish soon after the first attach through the open alignment of the signs of the poison vanish soon after the first attach.
